

I support Sinclair Broadcasting in its decision to air the documentary about the Vietnam Veterans who were prisoners of war. It's about time there was some balance to the mainstream media's manipulation of the 'news' that the three major networks serve up daily. I am tired of the left-wing bias and I am delighted to have something with a different view to counter their self-serving propoganda. (The Reagans, Michael Moore interviews, disgruntled Iraq citizens, the Halpert affair at ABC, Dan Rather, no intellectually honest interviews with the candidates, etc.) The list could go on and on and on....
Leave Sinclair alone and let us have some 'free speech'!
